A Season of Aloha

In A Season of Aloha, Everett Kent takes us on a delightful journey from his growing into adulthood in small town Ontario to slipping back into childhood fifty years later on Hawaii's Big Island. Laugh as the author recounts numerous life lessons forcefully delivered by an unique cast of bigger than life characters. These include his five year old son, a bow-tie-wearing singing village barber, Kauai's miniature-wiener-eating homeless cowboy and one hockey-loving, finger-pointing Russian comrade, deep in Moscow's Museum of the Revolution.

Biography

Everett Kent grew up in a family of seven watching black and white TV in the 1950's and '60's in both Huntsville and Burk's Falls, Ontario, Canada. He toiled for thirty long years in the financial services industry as both diligent corporate worker and not-so-diligent international consultant. Along with his beautiful artist partner Diane Lynn Kent, he escapes frequently to the South Pacific where they stare in wonder at God's sunsets and explore the nooks and crannies of the stunning islands of Aloha.
